

The Meaning of the 'Word'.

Before man can expect to rise up to a higher plane of understanding he must first learn the rules that govern his existence

You may now read this script for then you will see man does not rule his own destiny it is preordained via his genetic code.

As in the beginning there was only the 'Word' so it shall be that the 'Word' continues....
See More

This script explains:

1 Good can not exist without bad, as they both share the same plane as like on a ruler. Good being on the opposing side of that which is bad, for without 'Evil we cannot truly measure that which is 'Good', and vice versa.

2 Love and Hate share the same plane, as they too, cannot truly exist without each other. Example: Hate to be apart, love to be near, hence true Love hurts it always will.

3 Then there is the image, the image can attract, or repulse you, as can strike the very 'Soul' unlike any other weapon.

4 The most powerful of all these is the Word as the word can create or destroy for it has the power to hit the Soul whereas no other weapon can penetrate.

The above is written into the genetic code of all living things, thus forms the rules by which we all live.

Thus so it shall be that as in the beginning it was the 'Word' as with the Word we can formulate to create, or to destroy.

Love and best wishes to all that read and understand.

Carl Barron
Author
31 March 2010